 NATIONAL ASSOCIATION ARMY NURSES

The National Association of Army Nurses of The Civil War

By Kate M. Scott, National Secretary.

THE question has been asked, "Why are those old Army Nurses leted and cared for so tenderly at the National Encampments of the G. A. R.? What good can they do for the Grand Army?"

THIS question we leave for the veterans themselves to answer. They will tell you that in the grey-haired, bent forms of these veteran nurses many of them recognize the gentle face upon which their eyes rested when they first opened after the work of the surgeon's knife was done; or the cool hands that smoothed the levered brow or held the cooling drink to the parched lips. These are the women who, in their early womanhood, filled with the same patriotism that sent to the defense of the flag their husbands, fathers, brothers, and lovers, went to the front to care for the sick and wounded.

IT can scarcely be realized in this age, when the glorious Red Cross, with its perfect system of trained nurses, has made the vocation of a nurse an honorable one, when our Government is employing women as nurses, what nerve and patriotic devotion it took for the young women of the sixties to brave public opinion and enlist for hospital and field service.

AT the beginning of the Civil War, Dorothy Dix, that grand "Angel of Mercy," offered her services to the Government, and was appointed to enroll women for hospital nurses; but as she would take none under thirty years of age, scores of young matrons and maidens who had seen their loved ones march to the front, offered their services independently, and were enrolled by surgeons, generals and colonels of regiments, serving without pay and rendering heroic service. The history of the nurses of the Civil War has been an almost unwritten one. When the war closed they went quietly to their homes, and took up again the daily routine of woman's work.

IN 1881 Miss Dix invited all nurses whom she could reach to meet her in Washington, and many responded. An organization was formed, called the Ex-Nurse's Association of the District of Columbia, to meet each year in Washington. Miss Dix was elected president for life, but in 1887 her busy life ended, and Dr. Susan Edson succeeded her. She soon resigned, and Miss Harnet P. Dame filled the office until she too folded her hands, her work being done.

AT the Encampment in 1892, there were quite a number of Nurses at Washington, and as not nearly all were members of the District Association, Mrs. Addie L. Ballou of San Francisco, Cal., called them together and organized the National Association of Army Nurses of the Late War, with thirty-five members. Mrs. Ballou was elected president and Miss Hancock of Philadelphia secretary. The Association was to meet at each National Encampment.

MRS. Ballou was too far away to attend the two following Encampments, and the little society held no convention, but when the National Encampment was held in 1895 at Louisville, Kentucky, Mrs. Emily E. Woodley of Philadelphia, at the request of comrades of the G. A. R., called the nurses present together and re-organized the Association. By-laws and rules and regulations were adopted, and Mrs. Woodley was elected National President and the document containing the formation of the Association was registered before a notary public in Louisville. Mrs. Woodley was continued as president for three years and did much to establish and strengthen the organization.

THE object of the Association is to keep green the memories of those days of civil strife, to keep in touch with the Grand Army of the Republic in its efforts to perpetuate the grand principles for which the boys in blue fought and died, to seek out and aid unfortunate and needy nurses, and assist in procuring pensions.

THOSE admitted to membership must be women of good moral character, who served at least three months as a regular or volunteer nurse. Applications for membership must be enclosed by the applicant's nearest Post of the G. A. R.

AT Cincinnati in 1901 the title of the Association was changed to National Association of Army Nurses of the Civil War, instead of the "Late War," to distinguish it from the National Association of Nurses of the Spanish-American War.

THE Act of Congress in 1892 all nurses who were employed and paid by the Government are entitled to a pension of twelve dollars ($12) per month, but no pension is allowed the volunteer nurses, who rendered equally good service and endured the dangers and discomforts of camp and field. A bill, however, is before Congress which it is hoped will be passed and which will place the volunteers on an equal basis with the regular nurses.

THE Act of Congress, all nurses of the Civil War are entitled to burial in National Cemeteries, and several sleep the last sleep at beautiful Arlington.

THE first organization of nurses of the Civil War was the Veteran Nurses Association, which was formed in Philadelphia during the war. This was succeeded by the Andrew C. Cunn Nurse Corps of Philadelphia, which was disbanded July 1910.

MASSACHUSETTS also has a State society, which meets regularly at the State House. It has a membership of about thirty.

THE following named ladies have succeeded Mrs. Ballou and Mrs. Woodley as National Presidents: Mrs. Elizabeth Ewing of Pennsylvania (deceased), Mrs. Ada Johnson of Missouri (two terms), Mrs. Delia A. B. Fay of New York, Mrs. Margaret Hamilton of Massachusetts, Mrs. Addie L. Ballou of California, Mrs. Fanny T. Hazen of Massachusetts, (two terms), Mrs. Clarissa F. Dye of Pennsylvania (two terms), and Mrs. Rebecca S. Smith of Minnesota.

THE officers chosen at the convention were: National President, Mary E. Lacy, Salt Lake City, Utah, Senior Vice-President, Catherine L. Taylor, New York City, N. Y., Junior Vice-President, Hannah J. Starbird, Reno, Nev., National Treasurer, Salome M. Stewart, Gettysburg, Pa., National Chaplin, Hannah U. Maxon, Gallipolis, Ohio, (deceased), National Conductor, Mary E. Squire, Sheboygan, Wis., National Guard, Elizabeth Chapman, East St. Louis, Ill., National Secretary, Kate M. Scott, Brookville, Pa., National Counsellor, Rebecca S. Smith, Minneapolis, Minn.; National Aide and Chief of Staff, Lettie E. C. Buckley, Chicago, Ill., Surgeon, Nancy M. Hill, Dubuque, Iowa., Color Bearer, Susanna Kups, Philadelphia, Pa.

AT Toledo Ohio, in 1908, Lafayette Post, G. A. R., of New York City, presented an elegant silk flag to the Association, which will wave a salute to the veterans at Atlantic City as they march in review and as long as the G. A. R. and Nurses of the Civil War have enough veterans left to meet at Encampments.

A Thought

PRIOR to 1901, when Col. F. M. Sterrett took the Association in charge, it was not entertained at the National Encampment, as a body, nor seats provided for reviewing the parade, but since that time the Nurses of the Civil War have been handsomely entertained by each City where the National Encampment is held, at good hotels, and every attention given to each and all of them. At Cleveland, Washington City, San Francisco, Boston, Denver, Minneapolis, Saratoga Springs, Toledo and Salt Lake City, the Association was largely represented for such a small organization. Col. Sterrett at each Encampment has given personal attention to their pleasure and comfort endearing him to all these women veterans of the sixties.

The following correspondence will explain how this little booklet came into existence. It being the idea of Col. Sterrett to give this tribute to the National Association of Nurses of the Civil War. The Correspondence between Col. Sterrett and Miss Kate M. Scott, National Secretary of the Association, gives this in full.

Atlantic City, N. J., March 17, 1910

Dear Miss Scott,-

If possible for you to procure a photograph of each of the Army Nurses, with a statement of age and service, compiled in a paragraph and send same to me, I would like to use it in a booklet to which, I presume they would not object.

I know the question of age with a lady is usually hedged with some hesitancy in answering, but since each of you served in the war of the rebellion which commenced, lacking one year, fifty years ago, the presumption is that none of you will answer to less than three-score and ten, and at that age there will not be much hesitancy in answering this usually delicate question of age.

Very truly,

Executive Director

Col. F. M. Sterrett,

Executive Director G. A. R. Encampment,

Atlantic City, N. J.,

My Dear Col. Sterrett,-

Your favor of 17th inst. received, and I am at a loss how to reply, for while I appreciate the honor you have in view for our Association and the pleasure it would give the Nurses, I fear I cannot secure photos and data for personal sketches in time for your purpose.

I could however, send to each one a circular letter asking for her photo and facts in regard to her service, as will be necessary to use in the preparation of the contemplated work.

Fraternally yours,

Signed KATE M. SCOTT

Atlantic City, N. J., March 24th 1910

Dear Miss Scott

Yours of the 20th inst. at hand. I wish you would write to each of the nurses on your Roster telling them of my plan to have each of their photographs in a little booklet for distribution at the 44th National Encampment, and say to them, that the photographs must reach me by the first day of June, and that those which reach me later than that date, cannot be used. In this way they could blame only themselves if the photographs and biographical paragraphs did not appear. If you will kindly take this matter up at once and send me the cost of the work, I will take pleasure in remitting you the amount.

Brookville, Pa., March 20th 1910

Dear Colonel Sterrett:

Replying to your favor of the 24th inst., I wish to assure you that I will do my best to help you out in obtaining data for the Nurses' booklet and my idea is to send out a circular letter to each member of our Association, asking them to send you what you desire. Please let me know size of page and just how much space will be allotted to each one.

I will make it plain that no lengthy biography will be considered, and that nothing will be considered after June 1st.

Please let me know whether you approve of this plan.

Fraternally yours,

Dear Miss Scott,

Yours of the 20th ult. at hand. Your plan of writing a circular letter to each of the Nurses with the series of questions mentioned is just right, and if you desire to employ someone to address and mail the envelopes, of course you should do so. Simply render the bill and I will send you check for same. Those who do not reply, will have themselves to thank for being left out. I would say to the nurses that they should comprehend their little biography within 100 words and in no case more than 150 will be used.

Col. F. M. Sterrett,

Atlantic City, N. J.

Dear Sir,

Your letter just received, and with its arrival comes proof of the letter I am sending out, which I will enclose for your inspection. I did not think of having a stenographer, but as the quickest and for me easiest method was to have the letters printed, I have done so, and expect to have all ready to mail by Monday, but will hold these until I hear from you.

I thought by confining them to the questions asked, I would get uniform answers.

If you wish anything added or have any suggestions to offer, as I am under your orders, I will hold the letters until I hear from you.

Fraternally,

KATE M. SCOTT

Brookville, Pa., April 5, 1910

I am in receipt of a letter from Col. F. M. Sterrett, Executive Director 11th National Encampment, G. A. R., asking that each member of the Army Nurses Association furnish him with a photograph and information regarding service, etc. for publication in the Encampment booklet. This information and photograph must be in the hands of Col. Sterrett on or before June 1st. No later communications will be considered. I am, therefore, attaching to this letter a blank which when filled out by you will give information desired. Fill it out at once, if possible, and enclose with photograph, mailing direct to Col. Sterrett, at the address given below.

Fraternally yours,

Miss Kate M. Scott,

Brookville, Pa.

Mrs. Addie L. Ballou

PAST NATIONAL PRESIDENT

Mrs. Ballou, at the beginning of the Civil War, offered her services to the Governor of Wisconsin. She began her service as nurse in camp for the sick of the Thirty-Second Wisconsin Infantry at Oshkosh, and later was commissioned by Surgeon General Walcott at Milwaukee. When the regiment reached Tennessee she was sent with 255 sick soldiers to Keokuk, Iowa. On the return of her regiment to Memphis she served in the hospital barracks, and General Forrester's Church nursing hundreds through a terrible epidemic.

Mrs. Ballou has resided for a number of years at San Francisco, where she has won distinction as an artist and is well known in journalism. She is a forceful, earnest speaker, having published a much-praised volume of poems entitled "Driftwood."

Mrs. Ballou lost everything in the earthquake and fire at San Francisco and was subsequently hurt by a fall from a crowded street car.

Mrs. Emily E. Woodley

PAST NATIONAL PRESIDENT

Mrs. Woodley, in 1895 at Louisville, Kentucky, reorganized the National Association of Nurses of the Civil War at the request of members of the Grand Army of the Republic, as the association was practically disbanded owing to the inability of Mrs. Ballou, the National President, elected in 1892, to be present.

Mrs. Woodley had fitted herself for the work during the Cholera epidemic in Philadelphia, and when the Civil War broke out, she at once went to the front, enlisting May 29th, 1861, doing excellent service until she was discharged May 26th, 1865.

She served on the field with the Potomac Army and also in the west. During the war she was known as "Mother Wilson," by which she is held in loving remembrance by many whom she cared for during her service of four years. She served as National President from 1895 to 1898.

Her whole heart was in the work and she did much to build up the organization. She died at her home in Philadelphia, May 15, 1908. Mrs. Woodley's last meeting with the Association was at the Encampment at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., in 1907.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wendell Ewing

PAST NATIONAL PRESIDENT

Mrs. Ewing was elected National President of the Association at Cincinnati in 1898 and served one year. Her husband, who was a member of the Pennsylvania Reserves, having been wounded at Malvern Hill, Va. and sent to the U. S. Hospital in Baltimore, Md., she at once went to nurse him leaving her young babe with her mother. After her husband recovered, she offered her services and was enrolled as a nurse by the Surgeon in charge of the U. S. General Hospital, West Building, Baltimore, in Oct. 1862 and was discharged in Sept. 1863.

Mrs. Ewing's hardest work was caring for the Union Soldiers who were brought from Southern prisons many of them so starved and emaciated that she had to feed them like little babes. She also nursed many confederate Prisoners.

Mrs. Ewing died at her home in Phoenixville, Pa., in 1905, after a long and painful illness.

Miss Ada Johnson

PAST NATIONAL PRESIDENT

Miss Johnson was elected National President at Philadelphia in 1899 and served two years.

When the war broke out she was teaching school at her home in Conneaut, Ohio, but at once offered her services to Miss Dorothy Dix, and was accepted. She served in the hospital in St. Louis, nursing the worst cases of wounded from the battlefield of Wilson's Creek, Springfield and Donaldson, also on the first hospital boat on the Mississippi river making scores of trips.

She went after the wounded at Corinth in a cattle car, her last service was at Camp Joe Holt, opposite Louisville, Ky. She remained until peace was declared, when she returned to St. Louis.

Miss Johnson's term of service was probably longest of any Civil War Nurse. She enlisted in August 1861, and served until November 1865, over four years.

After the war she taught school for thirty years in St. Louis. She died January 10, 1910. Miss Johnson was a cousin of Major E. S. Johnson, Superintendent of Lincoln Park and Lincoln Tomb, Springfield, Ill., and was an honorary member of the Seventh Illinois Vol. Infantry.

Mrs. Delia A. W. Fay
PAST NATIONAL PRESIDENT

She marched with her regiment and went on every battlefield in which it was engaged, caring for the wounded in the face of shot and shell.

Mrs. Fay, in the summer of 1864, was exposed to the heaviest fire at Drury's Bluff. Forty of her regiment were killed and many wounded. She escaped unhurt.

Mrs. Fay after the war closed, was offered a Major's Commission by the Governor of New York but declined the honor.

She was afterwards in the Yorktown Hospital until the City was evacuated. She distributed supplies at Hampton Hospital from June 13, 1865 until her regiment was mustered out. She cared for her blind husband, caused by wounds, until he died. She died May 27, 1908.

Mrs. Margaret Hamilton
PAST NATIONAL PRESIDENT

Mrs. Hamilton was born in Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 19, 1840. Her mother died in 1857 and three years later she became, with her father's consent a sister of charity and after thorough preparation was sent to teach in the Orphan Asylum at Albany, N. Y. In the Spring of 1862 she was sent with three other sisters to the Satterlee U. S. Hospital at Philadelphia, her first duties being to care for the wounded from Chickamauga.

For three years she did excellent service after which she left the sisterhood and married a soldier of the nineteenth Maine Volunteers. She is now a widow and resides at Wakefield. She served as National President of the Nurses' Association in 1903—San Francisco. She receives a pension.

Mrs. Fanny Titus Hazen

PAST NATIONAL PRESIDENT

Mrs. Fanny Titus Hazen is the granddaughter of a soldier of the Revolution and was born in Vershire, Vt. May 2, 1840

When she tried to enlist as a nurse, Miss Dix would not accept her on account of her youth, but she had two brothers seventeen and eighteen years old in the service and she begged to stay. Miss Dix sent her to the Columbian Hospital, Washington, where she served until it was closed, June 27, 1865.

Her youngest brother was one of the wounded brought to her from the battle of Cold Harbor, Va.

Mrs. Hazen is a Past National President of the National Association, Nurses Civil War and President of the Massachusetts Association. She receives a pension. Her address is 61 Oxford St., Cambridge, Mass.

Mrs. Clarissa F. Dye

PAST NATIONAL PRESIDENT

In 1862 was Miss Clarissa F. Jones engaged in teaching but devoted her vacation to field and hospital work in company with Miss Marie McClillan of Germantown, Pa.

In 1862, on the Steamer Maine, then with a pass from Miss Dix to Alexandria, Va. and then to the Lyceum Military Hospitals until Oct. 1862. She reached the battle of Fredericksburg in December ahead of all others. In 1863 she nursed in the Second Corps Hospital at Gettysburg, having charge of the Confederate wounded. From Gettysburg to Rapahannock from which place she conducted supplies to Broad Stations which were supplied by tons from her home friends at Germantown. Mrs. Dye furnished a substitute for the war who served to the close with honor.

After the war Miss Jones married Mr. John H. Dye of Philadelphia. She is now a widow and resides at 202 W. Rittenhouse St., Germantown. She is over 77 years of age and receives no pension. She is the only woman who received a medal of honor during the war.

Mrs. Rebecca S. Smith
PAST NATIONAL PRESIDENT

Mrs. Rebecca Smith was teaching school when an epidemic of Diphtheria broke out among the soldiers in 1862. She at once went to care for them, and after that was continuously on duty on the battle fields until 1864.

She nursed at Benton Barracks during the greater part of her service.

Mrs. Smith was President of the National Association of the Civil War Army Nurses in 1909.

Hannah L. Palmer
PAST NATIONAL SECRETARY

Miss Hannah L. Palmer was engaged for nine months in Columbia College Hospital, Washington, D. C., under the direction of Miss Dorothy Dix.

Miss Palmer resides at Canastota, N. Y., and is 83 years of age. She receives a pension of $12 per month. Miss Palmer was Secretary of the National Association Nurses of the Civil War 1896—1897.

Mrs. Mary Roby Lacey NATIONAL PRESIDENT

Mrs. Lacey, President of the National Association Army Nurses of the Civil War, was born at Plymouth, Mass., and when only fifteen married John H. Roby of Gloucester, N. J., who, a few months after, enlisted in the First New Jersey Infantry in response to the first call for 75,000 men. At the battle of Cold Harbor, Va., he was wounded and his wife took care of him at the U. S. General Hospital, Philadelphia.

Mrs. Roby had offered her services as a nurse at the beginning of the War, but on account of her youth Miss Dix refused to accept her and she then went to Miss Anne Morris, who had charge of the Cooper Refreshment Saloon, where she was put to work picking lint and making bandages. From there she went to the U. S. General Hospital, where the most of her services were rendered. Mrs. Roby's husband died soon after the war from the effect of wounds received in action, and later she married John E. Lacey who died in 1885. Mrs. Lacey is sixty-six and receives a pension. Her address is 15 Wayne Ave., Salt Lake City, Utah.

Mrs. Catharine L. Taylor
SENIOR VICE-PRESIDENT

Mrs. Taylor served as a volunteer nurse from 1862 to 1865 about three years in the U. S. General Hospital at Davids' Island, New York Harbor. Mrs. Taylor had made application to go to the front as a nurse but Mrs. General Dix would not approve her application, saying she could do more at home, while others older were better at the front.

Mrs. Taylor then residing at Dobb's Ferry, and had her own horse and carriage to carry loads of supplies and dainties for the sick and wounded soldiers, which the Government did not furnish, also furnishing food for the families and soldiers at the front.

Mrs. Taylor resides at 891 Amsterdam Ave., New York City, is 75 years of age and receives a pension. She is Senior Vice-President

Mrs. Hannah Judkins Starbird

NATIONAL JUNIOR VICE-PRESIDENT, A. A. N.

Mrs. Starbird under her maiden name, Miss Hannah E. Judkins of Skowhegan, was enlisted as a nurse in August 1864. She reported at Carver Hospital, Washington, D. C. was there three weeks, then transferred to St. John's College Hospital, Annapolis, Md. where she remained until July 1865, when the hospital was broken up.

Mrs. Starbird nursed paroled prisoners brought on the first boats from Libby, Andersonville, and other rebel prisoners, and says she cannot describe the poor, starved men with little clothing, their feet bound up in rags, covered with vermin and no one, not seeing them, could imagine their condition. Later the boats were met by the boats of the U. S. Sanitary Commission, and then clothing changed at sea, making it easier for the nurses.

Mrs. Starbird was paid thirteen dollars per month as were all contract nurses. She is Junior Vice-President of the National Association and resides at 2646 Magnolia Avenue, Los Angeles, Cal.

Miss Hannah Ulla Maxon

NATIONAL CHAPLAIN

Miss Hannah U. Maxon became identified with the National Association of Army Nurses but a few years ago. She was made its Chaplain in 1909. So marked was her ability that she soon won the respect of her associates and with her seeming good health, her energetic character and her charming manner she would soon have been a leader.

Miss Maxon became interested in army work at the beginning of the rebellion and served as nurse, in the hospital in her native town of Gallipolis, Ohio, till its close. By her zeal and activity she took a leading part and brought comfort and solace to many a weary one, who was far away from home and from the soothing hand to make smooth his dying pillow. Miss Maxon died May 26th 1910.

"Father in Thy gracious keeping Leave we now Thy servant sleeping."

Miss Kate M. Scott
NATIONAL SECRETARY

Miss Scott served during Winter and Spring of 1861-62 with the One Hundred and Fifth Pennsylvania Regiment at Camp Jameson, Va. She volunteered in response to a call from Colonel Amos McKnight for nurses for his regiment, many of whom were dying from fever and pneumonia and during the Winter was twice quarantined with Miss Ellen Guffy, her associate nurse, the latter being stricken with the dread disease.

Since the war Miss Scott has been closely identified with her regiment, is a member of its Regimental Association being its secretary from 1879-91. She is 72 years of age, resides at Brookville, Pa. and has been Secretary of the National Association of Army Nurses of the Civil War since 1897.

She resided at Gettysburg and during and after the battle cared for the wounded in her father's house, which was used as a hospital and also in the Roman Catholic and United Presbyterian Churches, where the first Division Corps Hospital was opened, and in Camp Letterman, the general hospital established east of the town. Her services of three months were all voluntary. She does not receive a pension. Her address is 228 Baltimore St., Gettysburg. She is the widow of the brother of a wounded soldier who died in her father's house. Her husband, a Presbyterian minister died in 1868 of injuries received in the service. She was a teacher in the public Schools before the war, has taught for twenty-five years, and is now a substitute teacher in the Gettysburg schools.

Mrs. Stewart has been Treasurer of the National Association of Nurses of the Civil War for seven years. She was appointed one of the enumerators of the late census.

Mrs. Mary E. Squire

NATIONAL CONDUCTOR

Miss M. Emily Chamberlin enlisted at Washington Hospital, Memphis, Tennessee, May 1863, serving there till October when she was transferred to the Officer's Hospital for a service of two months, returning to the Washington Hospital in December. Here she remained until the first of April 1864, when she was ordered to the Webster Hospital, remaining there until she left the service in June, 1864.

Mrs. Squire is 66 years of age. Her address is Sheboygan, Wisconsin. She was a regular nurse and receives a pension of $12 per month.

Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman

NATIONAL GUARD

Mrs. Chapman served three months as a volunteer nurse and then enlisted as a contract nurse for the balance of the War. She was sent to Memphis as a regular nurse where the boys in her husband's regiment had measles. She was mustered out at Keokuk, Iowa, in Leighton House Hospital with an honorable discharge. She has been connected with the Association of Army Nurses since its organization and is now Past National Chaplain, is 79 years of age and receives a pension of $12 a month. Her present address is 100-A N. 5th St., East St. Louis, Illinois.

Mrs. Lettie E. Buckley

Mrs. Buckley served as a nurse, being enlisted by Sanitary Commission, under her maiden name, Miss Lettie E. Covell from October 1863 to June 1865 at Memphis in the Washington and Adams Hospitals at Memphis, Tennessee.

Mrs. Buckley is 73 years of age and receives a pension.

She has held several offices in the Association. Her address is 1955 North Erie Street, Chicago, Illinois.

Mrs. Susanna Krips

Mrs. Krips enlisted as a nurse in 1863 serving with the Second Pennsylvania Heavy artillery for 5 months, also at Capitol Hill Hospital, Washington, D. C., Jarvis Hospital, Baltimore and Hough General Hospital, Alexandria.

Mrs. Krips was prostrated with an attack of Typhoid Fever which destroyed the hearing of her right ear. During her illness she was attended by Dr. Elliott, Surgeon in charge and Miss Plummer, a fellow nurse. She belongs to the Association of Army Nurses and has held several offices.

Mrs. Krips resides at 3334 N. Second St., Philadelphia, and is 68 years of age. Her term of service was 2 years and six months. She receives a pension.

Mrs. Mary C. Athow

Mrs. Athow served as a volunteer nurse for eighteen months from Feb. 1864 to close of the war in 1865, serving at Holston Hospital, Knoxville, Tennessee; Sedgwick, Louisville, Kentucky, Camp Nelson.

She served under Mrs. Anne Wittenmeyer of the United States Sanitary Commission. Mrs. Athow is the widow of a veteran of the Civil War, is seventy-five years of age and receives a pension of $12 per month. Her home is at 286 Fox St., Aurora, Illinois.

Mrs. Mary A. Aston

Mrs. Aston served under Surgeon B. S. Kenderdine in the Hospital at Broad and Washington Streets and the Christian Street Hospital, Philadelphia, from September 5th 1862 to August 11th 1865 as a Volunteer Nurse. Her husband being an invalid was unable to render aid to his country but was willing for his wife to do as her heart dictated and she rendered valient service, only being absent from duty two weeks during her husbands last illness and death. Mrs. Aston became deaf by the explosion of a cannon while engaged in performing her duties.

She is 76 years of age, lives in Philadelphia and receives a pension of $12 per month.

Mrs. Belle Alter

Mrs. Alter served as a volunteer nurse as Miss Belle Thompson. She began her work in September, 1864, in the Taylor House Hospital at Winchester, Virginia, being assigned to duty by Dr. S. Sharpe, who was surgeon in charge and assisted in caring for the wounded from Frohus Hill and Cedar Creek battle fields until the middle of Jan., 1865, when she brought home her brother, Captain Thompson of Company A, 40th Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers. He was badly wounded and for two years she nursed him, a helpless cripple.

Mrs. Alter is sixty-three years of age and resides at Port Royal, Penna. She does not receive a pension.

Mrs. Elizabeth Waldrige

Mrs. Baldrige served as a volunteer nurse for nine months at Memphis, Tennessee. She served under her maiden name, Miss Elizabeth Lee.

Mrs. Anna H. Baker.

Mrs. Baker served as a volunteer nurse in the Citizens' Volunteer Hospital at Philadelphia for four years. She is 92 years of age. Her address is 1122 S. 45th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

After the first great battle the wounded were sent in great numbers to northern points. Temporary hospitals were established at Philadelphia and hundreds arriving at one time, whose wounds had not been cared for. The firemen of the city on the arrival of the wounded rang their bells and the volunteer nurses were always near to answer the call, remaining at the hospital as long as needed. As many as 2500 arriving in one day.

The worst cases of sick and wounded were cared for until able to be sent to their homes or to other hospitals. Mrs. Baker served in this hospital faithfully, nursing the sick and wounded, from September 5, 1862 until August 9, 1864.

Mrs. Catherine M. Beck

Mrs. Beck served five months as a volunteer nurse at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, at which place she was living during the Civil War.

She is 77 years of age and does not receive a pension. Her present

“The Women Who Went to the Field”

The following Poem, composed by Miss Clara Barton, was read by her at the Farewell Reception and Banquet by the Ladies of the Potomac Corps, at Willard's Hotel, Washington, D. C., November 18, 1892, in response to the above toast.

The women who went to the field, you say,
The women who went to the field; and pray
What did they go for!—just to be in the way?
They'd not know the difference betwixt work and play,
And what did they know about war, anyway!
What could they do? of what use could they be?
They would scream at the sight of a gun, don't you see?
Just fancy them round where the bugle-notes play,
And the long roll is bidding us on to the fray
Imagine their skirts 'mong artillery wheels,
And watch for their flutter as they flee 'cross the fields

When the charge is rammed home and the fire
belches hot;
They never would wait for the answering shot
They would faint at the first drop of blood in their sight,
What fun for us boys, (ere we enter the fight);
They might pick some lint, and tear up some sheets,
And make us some jellies, and send on their sweets,
And knit some soft socks for Uncle Sam's shoes,
And write us some letters, and tell us the news,
And thus it was settled, by common consent,
Of husbands, or brothers, or whoever went,
That the place for the women was in their own homes.

There to patiently wait until victory comes
But later it chanced—just how, no one knew
That the lines slipped a bit and some began to crowd
 through,
And they went, where did they go? Ah! where did they not?
Show us the battle, the field, or the spot
Where the groans of the wounded rang out on the air
That her ear caught it not, and her hand was not there,
Who wiped the death-sweat from the cold, clammy
 brow,
And sent home the message:—"Tis well with him
 now",
Who watched in the tents whilst the fever-fires burned,
And the pain-tossing limbs in agony turned,
And wet the parched tongue, calmed delirium's strife Till the dying lips murmured, "My mother," "My wife!"
And who were they all?—they were many—my men,

Their records were kept by no tabular pen;
They exist in traditions from father to son,
Who recalls, in dim memory, now here and there one
A few names were writ, and by chance live to day;
But 's perishing record, fast fading away
Of those we recall, there are scarcely a score:
Dix, Dame, Bickerdyke, Edson, Harvey and Moore,
Pates, Wittenmeyer, Gilson, Safford and Lee,
And poor Cutter, dead in the sands of the sea;
And Frances D. Gage, our "Aunt Fanny" of old, Whose voice rang for freedom when freedom was sold
And Husband, and Etheridge, and Harlan and Case,
Layernmore, Alcott, Hancock and Chase,
And Turner, and Hawley, and Potter and Hall
Ah! the list grows apace, as they come at the call,
Did these women quail at the sight of a gun?
Will some soldier tell us of one he saw run?
Will he glance at the boats on the great western flood,

At Pittsburg and Shiloh, did they faint at the blood—
And the brave wife of Grant stood there with them then,
And her calm stately presence gave strength to him men
And Marie of Logan—she went with them too,
A bride, scarcely more than sweetheart, 'tis true—
Her young cheek grows pale when the bold troopers ride
Where the "Black Eagle" soars, she is close at his side,
She staunches his blood, cools the fever-burnt breath,
And the wave of her hand stays the Angel of Death,
She nurses him back, and restores once again
To both army and state the great leader of men,
She has smoothed his black plumes and laid them to sleep
Whilst the angels above them their high vigils keep,
And she sits there alone, with the snow on her
 brow
Yours cheers for her, Comrades!—Three cheers for her now
And these were the women who went to the war:
The women of question, what did they go for?

Because—in their hearts God had planted the seed
Of pity for woe, and help for its need,
They saw, in high purpose, a duty to do
And the armor of right broke the barriers through Uninvited, unaided, unsanctioned oft-times,
With pass, or without it, they pressed on the lines—
They pressed, they implored, till they ran the lines
 through,
And that was the "running" the men saw them do—
"Twas a hampered work, its worth largely lost,
"Twas hindrance, and pain, and effort, and cost—
But through these came knowledge,—knowledge is power,
And never again in the deadliest hour
Of war or of peace shall we be so beset
To accomplish the purpose our spirits have met
And what would they do if war came again?
The scarlet cross floats where all was blank then—
They would pin on their "brassards" and march to the fray,
And the man liveth not who could say to them nay—
They would stand with you now—as they stood with you then,
The nurses, consolers, and saviors of men
